

Country: South Korea

Languages: English, Korean, a little bit of French

Personal Description: I am energetic and adventurous. I'm willing to throw myself into new challenges and environments. I believe every experience counts and life is always about learning from mistakes. I'm interested in human rights, film making and arts. I am a member of rowing team at university, therefore I do various kinds of sports (hiking, swimming, running, cycling etc..) to stay fit but I'm not good at any of them. (lol)

Hobbies: Film making, discovering new places and rowing. I have been learning flower arrangement lately.

Favourite Music and Movies:

<Music>

Coldplay, Lily Allen, Damien Rice, Adele

<Movies>

I LOVE movies.. but to pick a few,

Misunderstood, Any Day Now, Attila Marcel, Before Series (Before Sunrise, Before Sunset, Before Midnight), Girl Interrupted, One Day, The Perks of Being a Wallflower, Moonrise Kingdom, Take this Waltz, Carnage, The Sessions and the Motorcycle Diaries, Crazy Stupid Love

The craziest thing I've done in my life: My life is full of random, crazy, impulsive actions and choices.. I think it's what makes my life so interesting. So it's hard to point out one specific event.

Things I like: A long, inspiring conversation about life and people. A beautiful movie filled with insight about life. A new place where I could explore and meet new people.

Things I don't like: I'm sometimes picky about food. I don't like coffee-flavored candy and orange-flavored candy. They taste too artificial.. I don't drink coffee that much because my mouth would get all dried up.. But I like taking adventures and trying out new foods. I tried eating frog legs in China and curry with my hands in Indonesia. I'm hoping that new food adventures await in Europe!

What I expect from host family: First of all, I'm very thankful that they are willing to provide me an accomodation and I hope that we could get along well and have good conversations and fun time. ☺

Life Motto: Sin pausa, sin priso. Free your spirit. Young blood, old souls, open hearts, free minds. A dream you dream alone is only a dream, a dream you dream together is reality.
